THE ANNUAL MESSAGE

President Cleveland's Review of National Affairs.

He Advocates a Reduction of Duties in the Interests of Economy and Labor.

He Reiterates His Civil Service Views and Recommends a Commission on the Indian Question—Our Foreign Relations Discussed.

To the Congress of the United States:

In discharge of a constitutional duty and following a well-established project in the executive office, I herewith transmit to you this annual report, containing certain information concerning the state of the Union, together with such recommendations for legislative action as appear necessary and proper.

Foreign Relations.

Our government has consistently maintained its relations of friendship toward all other powers, and of neighborly intercourse with those whose policies are contiguous to our own. Few questions have arisen during the past year with other governments, and none of these beyond the reach of settlement in counsel. We are as yet without provision for the settlement of claims of citizens of the United States against Chili, for injuries during the late war in that country. The mixed commissions organized under claims conventions concluded by the Chilean government with certain European states have reported no amount of friction which we trust can be avoided in the convention which our representative at Santiago is authorized to negotiate. The cruel treatment of Chinese laborers in Peru, and the former's former ally, and the latter's former ally, have been repeated in some of the far western states and territories and acts of violence against Chinese people have been reported from the local authorities to the power of the local constituted authorities to prevent and punish such acts. Much of this violence can be traced to race prejudice and the competition of Chinese labor with the native population. In opening our vast domain to alien elements, we have not provided an arena for endless antagonism. The paramount duty of maintaining the peace and harmony of our own people may require the adoption of measures to restrict the immigration of Chinese laborers, and the protection of the Chinese laborer against the oppression of a special race. I am not without assurance that the purpose of our law-giver was to invite to our shores the Chinese laborer, and to protect him against the oppression of a special race. I am not without assurance that the purpose of our law-giver was to invite to our shores the Chinese laborer, and to protect him against the oppression of a special race.

Domestic Affairs.

The report of the secretary of the treasury for the year ending June 30, 1886, is a most interesting and valuable document. It contains a full and complete statement of the financial condition of the government, and of the several branches of the government relating to its department. I especially desire to call attention to the report of the secretary of the treasury, touching the subject of the collection of the revenue, and the report of the secretary of the treasury, touching the subject of the collection of the revenue, and the report of the secretary of the treasury, touching the subject of the collection of the revenue.

THE FISHERIES.

The recommendation contained in my last annual message in relation to a mode of settling the fishery rights in the waters of the North Atlantic, along a subject of anxious difference between the United States and Great Britain, has been the subject of much discussion. On April 13 last, and thereupon negotiations were instituted to settle the fishery rights in the waters of the North Atlantic, along a subject of anxious difference between the United States and Great Britain, has been the subject of much discussion.

THE INDIAN QUESTION.

In considering the report of the secretary of the interior, the first thing that strikes the eye is the statement that the Indian population of the United States is now estimated at 250,000. This is a very small number, and it is a very small number, and it is a very small number.

Albert F. Ayres has filed an answer to the quo warranto proceedings instituted by Judge de facto Irwin, in which he enters a denial to the charge of embezzlement in Irwin's complaint, even to and including the forged tally-sheets, and it also rises to sublimity in its claim that the defendant never voted more than did his opponent.

As a whole the answer is equal to one of Bernhamer's best efforts, and while he is not the attorney in the case, his spirit evidently hovered near when the same was drawn.

Killed by a Locomotive.

Michael Riekle was struck and instantly killed by a J. M. & I. engine near Michigan avenue yesterday about noon. His body was terribly mangled, and was taken to Grinstead's. Mr. Riekle lived at Woodside, and was returning from church. He was sixty-eight years of age, and had been employed in the Pan-Handle shops, as a machinist, for the past sixteen years. He leaves a family.

THE GREAT NATIONAL STEEL ENGRAVING OF THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG.

From the original picture painted for the state of Pennsylvania, under award of commission appointed by the legislature.

The engraving is large (38x46 inches) and finely executed. The drawing of the men and horses are lifelike—a masterpiece of art that will be appreciated and highly prized by every ex-soldier.

Having accepted the agency for this engraving, I will in a few days start a canvasser through the city, who will receive subscriptions.

The established retail price for the engraving is $10, but to give comrades an opportunity to possess this magnificent engraving the publisher and proprietor has made a reduction of 25 per cent., which places it within the reach of all. This offer to remain in force for sixty days from date, and for circulars. Address Wallace Foster, agent for Rothelmer's great historical engraving of the Battle of Gettysburg, 1000 North Tenth st., Indianapolis, Ind.

PHYSICAL SALVATION.

"BLESS'D ART THOU ABOVE ALL OTHERS." Some of the expressions of gratitude for the physical regeneration wrought by Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound read like the rejoicings of converts after a religious revival. It brings salvation to the body. A lady in Franklin Parish, Louisiana, writes: "I tried one bottle of your Compound for prolapsed uteri and leucorrhoea. I never had anything in my life that did me as much good. I was hardly able to walk about the house without difficulty. I could not sleep upon anything without pain. When I think how much good that one bottle did me, I feel as if I could fall on my knees to you and say, 'Bless'd art thou above all others, for thou art one of the greatest benefactors that woman ever had.'"

Secure your holiday presents at once and save the high prices. Special sale. Marcy, "The" Jeweler, is making low prices this week.
